Students will study three or four A-levels across the two years of Sixth Form study. To study at A-level, students need to have achieved seven or more GCSEs at grades C or above, as well as meeting the entry requirements for individual subjects. It is recommended that students wishing to take more than three A-levels should achieve seven or more GCSEs at B grade or above.

A combination of BTEC Level Three and A-levels is also acceptable. Students predicted between four and six GCSE A*-C passes should choose this route. Note: BTEC Level Three courses are a two year commitment. Students who have achieved five or more GCSE E grades are eligible to study BTEC Level Two courses

Students do not qualify as 'full time' students, irrespective of which school/college they attend if they only wish to follow one or two A-levels or L3 BTECs. The Downs only accepts students on a full time basis and therefore it is not possible to study only one or two A-levels or L3 BTECs here.

In the box below please explain why you would like to attend The Downs Sixth Form and briefly explain any future career and study plans you have after leaving the Sixth Form.

Appendix

Application Form – Personal Statement Guide

In the first section you should explain why you would like to study each of your subject choices. This is to ensure that you have researched your subject choices and you understand what you will be studying in each of your subjects. If you are unsure about anything go and see the teacher in charge of that subject at break time or lunch time.

Example: I would like to study Psychology because the workings of the human brain have always fascinated me. I have two small siblings and I am fascinated observing the way children often take on gender roles without any outside prompts. I feel that working with people to help them understand their own behaviour would be a fascinating career choice.

The next section should explain what personal skills you've got. Sixth Form requires a high level of independence and self discipline to succeed. The studying is demanding. At A-Level you need to study for around 10-15 hours a week outside of lessons. At Level 2 you need to have a fantastic attendance rate to maximise your grade. For example, you could talk about team work, work ethic, helping people in your spare time, creativity, time management, study skills, sportiness, leadership skills, and adventurousness. In each case you should support with appropriate examples.

Example: I believe that I have the personal skills to succeed in the Sixth Form. Out of school I have been helping at Riding for the Disabled for the last year and this involves working in challenging situations and using my caring nature both with the riders and the animals. In school I have kept on top of my coursework throughout GCSE and my teachers have all commented upon my mature approach to homework.

The next section should be about what you like to do when you are in the Sixth Form. How are you going to contribute to the Sixth Form community? Here is a list of things you could do:

House sports, House Music, House Performing Arts, helping at the primary school, House captain, helping out in lower school lessons, paired reading with the younger students, Head Boy, Head Girl, prefect, going on the expedition, sports teams, organising Sixth Form social events, joining the debating club, Duke of Edinburgh award, peer mentoring, School council etc.

Example: I am looking forward to Sixth Form life. In particular, I would like to be involved in .....

Finally you provide a sentence or two in summary to say why you have chosen the Downs Sixth Form.

*Example: The Sixth Form at The Downs School is my first choice for studying next year. This is because of.....
(Please explain what appeals to you about the Sixth Form).*
